Notes from the LID

A number of factors impact the water quality of our Minnesota lakes, and in 2015, some of these factors have included a mild winter with minimal snow cover during the winter, early drought conditions, heavy rains in May that produced flooding in our tributary creeks, and some major signs of erosion that entered into Grand Lake from these flooded creeks. With the light snow cover over the winter months, we expect an abundance of curly-leaf pondweed (CLP) since light penetrated the lake for most of the winter. We also expect some degradation of water clarity due to the nutrients that enters Grand Lake when flooding occurs with the heavy rains, or when CLP dies off in late June. Heaven forbid the day when our beautiful lake gets another aquatic invasive species like zebra mussels.

Given these factors, the Grand Lake Improvement District is taking action steps to keep our lake pristine:

1. Treatment of curly-leaf pondweed: In 2015, Lake Management, Inc. treated 27 acres of CLP on Grand Lake. The bad news is that CLP is an aquatic invasive species that will spread and take over the lake's native plants. The good news is that the lake improvement district has been working hard to reduce the amount of CLP, and in recent DNR surveys very little CLP has been found in treatment areas that have been targeted over the past few years, allowing us to move our treatment efforts to new locations.

2. Water quality monitoring of Ploof and Johannes Creeks: 2015 marks the fourth consecutive year of water quality monitoring of our two tributary creeks. Water samples of our creeks in May, June, July, August, and September allow us to obtain measures of nutrient runoff and sediments that impact our water quality. These measures include things like a.) total suspended solids, b.) total phosphorous, c.) chlorophyll A, and d.) Escherichia Coli (E. Coli). Multiple measures are needed each summer and over the course of a few years to establish the impact of major rain events that occur from time to time each summer. Those who live near County Road 8 and Grand Lake Road were witness to the sediments that poured into Grand Lake during some heavy rainfall events in May.

3. Watershed Best Management Practices: The Grand Lake Improvement District is working with the Stearns County Soil and Water Conservation District on two projects that will improve our lake. One project involves working with an area farmer to establish an ongoing plan to plant a cover crop during years that peas are planted. The cover crop, once established, reduces chances of erosion in heavy rains. A second project is a large project that will directly reduce or eliminate erosion from a large field into one of our tributary creeks. This is an exciting project that will result in a win-win for the property owner and for Grand Lake. Stay tuned for more information, pictures, and a possible tour when this project is finalized and completed.

4. Early Detection Monitoring of Zebra Mussel Veligers: In 2015 we contracted with RMB Environmental Laboratories from Detroit Lakes, MN to conduct zebra mussel veliger testing on Grand Lake. A veliger is the larva of many kinds of snails, including zebra mussels, and the testing of veligers is part of an early detection program. If veligers of zebra mussels are found in Grand Lake, a rapid response team will be dispatched by the Minnesota Department of Natural Resources (DNR) in an effort to eradicate this aquatic invasive species from Grand Lake before they become permanently established. RMB will collect samples on two dates in July when the lake water is over 66° F. Water samples will also be collected on both dates and analyzed in the lab for calcium levels. Calcium is critical in zebra mussel shell development, and a lake with calcium over 30 mg/L is suitable for Zebra mussel invasion.

Thanks to all of you for your support of the LID. It is our goal to work hard to improve our water quality and your experience of Grand Lake.

Submitted on behalf of the LID Board,
Scott Palmer, Chair
Grand Lake Improvement District

LID/GRAND LAKE AREA ASSOCIATION MEETING

Greet your Grand Lake neighbors on Saturday, August 29, 2015 at Eddie's on Grand at 9:00 AM for the latest news from the Lake Improvement District and the Grand Lake Area Association. We welcome your active participation and input at our meetings. Coffee, juice and donuts will be provided by Eddie's on Grand.

Curly-Leaf Pondweed

How to prevent the spread of Zebra Mussels:

- clean weeds and debris from your boats, and remove any attached zebra mussels,
- drain your boat, livewells, and baitwells, and keep all drain plugs out while traveling,
- dispose of unwanted bait in the trash, and
- dry docks, lifts, swim rafts and other equipment for at least 21 days before placing equipment into another water body.

Rest at the Public Access

This granite bench was made and installed at the Public Access on Grand Lake at the request of Tom Neis. Tom passed away at the age of 53 in August of 2014. Tom's great grandfather John lives on a farm across the road from the landing. Grand Lake was probably the first place that Tom ever fished with his Dad.

Thank you, Tom!
